

H.M. QUEEN OF THAILAND'S BIRTHDAY/MOTHER'S DAY AUGUST 12

Thailand's Queen Sirikit's birthday on 12 August is a nationwide public holiday, celebrated in the whole Thai Kingdom as Mother's Day. On this day, public buildings throughout Thailand are decorated with her portrait and garlanded with flowers and many colored lights. All around the country the Thai people, businesses and local organizations raise flags and portraits of Her Majesty Queen Sirikit.

Celebrating the Queen's Birthday and Mother's Day

The people of Thailand celebrate this day by hanging colourful lights and displaying portraits of the Queen. One element of the Thai celebration that we can also use in our cafes is the use of Jasmine. It is everywhere during this celebration as it symbolizes the importance of Mother's. Use it to decorate your servery or feature Jasmine Tea or Jasmine rice on your menus.

Today is also all about Thai Cuisine! At least one Thai inspired dish should be offered per station where possible. Click here to access the Spice Manual for create Thai recipes or see the few suggestions below.
